Selectmen's Meeting

WARRANT DISCUSSED

Selectmen together with the Finance Committee discussed the warrant for the May 3rd town meeting in detail approving a 4.5 million dollar budget which would be $11,800 over the tax ceiling. Chairman John DeCosta said that the Board is counting on the legislature to approve a compromise formula for state aid that will at least minimize Governor King's proposed cutbacks in state aid for the town. Mr. DeCosta indicated that the budget is as tight as it could be made and that no items remain that could be easily cut to conform with a large loss of state aid.

WITH A
PROVEN PRODUCT

The great, new Hydro-Pulse™ gas boiler can REDUCE Energy Costs 30% or more.

This revolutionary new heating unit, made by Hydrotherm, Inc., uses no burner, no pilot light, needs no flue, no chimney. It operates on the pulse combustion principle, which uses natural gas much more efficiently than conventional boilers. This means heating bills can be reduced 30% or more. If you're in a depression over high home heating costs, call us to learn more about Hydro-Pulse.

Hydrotherm® has certified this contractor for Hydro-Pulse installation and service.

The town did pick up a saving which may amount to $12,000 yearly after conferring with the Board of Health. Chairman Dan Lee explained that the Board of Health feels that a different direction is needed in town health care. He said the Fairhaven nurses will cover the town's health needs offering all the service that the town has now plus some extra service in home care and will do it for the fees collected from the people serviced ($43,000 projected revenue). Mr. Lee proposed that this service with the Fairhaven Nurses be contracted together with a part time employment of 2 days a week with Ellen Boyd at $8,000 per year.

She would administer shots, test blood pressure, etc. Mr. Lee emphasized that the personnel would remain the same and the service would be the same plus some extra service.

Palestinian to Talk at Tabor

The International Students' Club of Tabor Academy will present Mr. Marwan Kanafani as guest speaker on Thursday, April 29th, at 7:00 p.m. The program, concerning "The Palestinian Problem", will include a film, a talk by Mr. Kanafani, questions from a panel of Tabor International students, and questions from the audience. It is open to the public and will take place in Lyndon South Auditorium. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Marwan Kanafani was born in Jaffa, Palestine in 1928. He was educated in Damascus, Syria and at the Law School of the University of Cairo, Egypt. He has been employed at the Palestinian Research Center in Beirut, Lebanon and he is currently the Director of Information for the League of Arab States in New York City as well as the publisher and managing editor of the magazine Arab Perspective.

The Tabor International Students' Club sponsors programs of this type in order to stimulate intelligent thought and discussion on controversial and current political issues. Sponsorship in no way indicates endorsement, pro or con, by the Club or Tabor Academy.

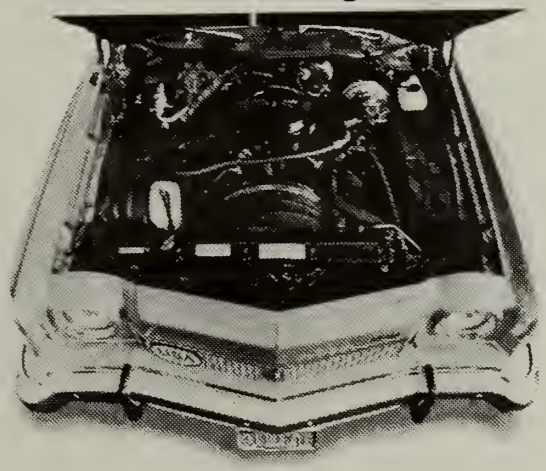
A dirty cooling system is destroying this engine and you can't even see the damage.



There's more to your car's cooling system than meets the eye. In fact, the inner-workings of your engine and automatic transmission depend on proper cooling.

A dirty cooling system will allow deposits to accumulate in the crankcase. This build-up of deposits can result in costly repairs.

But you can help avoid this expense and inconvenience with WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush and WYNN'S X-TEND Cooling System products. A new approach to cleaning and maintaining your automobile's entire cooling system while helping to maximize cooling system efficiency.

WYNN'S X-TEND Power-Flush unit uses pressurized water and air to flush the cooling system — including even those hard-to-reach areas.

Your automobile manufacturer recommends cooling system maintenance on a regular basis, so act now. Because when you can see the damage, it'll be too late.

Old Colony Winners

Three Old Colony Regional Vocational High School students have won gold medals in the statewide Vocational Industrial Clubs of America "Skill Olympics" held earlier this month in Lowell. Two of those students will take part in the national V.I.C.A. competition to be held in Louisville, Kentucky from June 21-26. They are Richard Newell, a senior in Machine Drafting, and Joseph Amarello, a junior in Machine Shop. The third gold medal winner was Jennifer Peritzian, a junior in Cosmetology. (Only seniors in Cosmetology are eligible for the national competition.)

Other medal winners and finalists were: Steven Faulkner (senior), second place in Machine Shop; Michael Mayo (junior), second place in Machine Drafting; John Benner (senior), second place in Carpentry; Melanie Trott (senior), second place in Data Processing; James Moraux (senior), finalist in Welding; Betsy Lowell and Edward Fernandes (both seniors), finalists in Data Processing; and Barbara Forand (junior), finalist in Cosmetology.

Don Mosher, Old Colony's V.I.C.A. coordinator, led the delegation to Lowell. In summing up the competition he said, "Even though our school is one-third the size of other schools, we felt our students' performance was outstanding."

Warrant Study

The date of the Warrant Study being sponsored by the Mattapoisett Woman's Club and the League of Women Voters has been changed to this Friday, April 30th. It will be held at 10:00 a.m. at the home of Jan O'Pezio.

Mime at Tabor

The Studebaker Mime Company will be at Tabor Academy to enthrall, delight, and amuse you on Friday, April 30th. This Boston-based mime company has twice been a finalist for the prestigious Artist Foundation Fellowship program for choreography and is noted for its off-beat style and versatility.

Mime is traditionally the art of conveying sights and emotions without the use of words. But (to quote the company's brochure) "Mime is more than theater without words. It evokes the unspoken, the unseen, and by power of suggestion a visceral recognition of the truth."

The Studebaker Mime Company is adept at such evocation, heightening the art with its unique flair. With music as a setting for many numbers, their repertoire includes a wide range, encompassing slap-stick, Alice in Wonderland and motorcycle racing as well as Surreal and dream-like selections.

Constant energy, humor and drama provide spell-binding entertainment. The show begins at 8:00 p.m. in Lyndon South Auditorium. There is no charge and refreshments will be served.

Alzheimers Disease Support

The Marion Center for Human Services is currently offering a program to provide on-going support for, education to, and interaction among the families and friends of those elderly persons suffering from Alzheimers disease or related brain disorders.

Those individuals who are caring for such an elderly person need a way to keep abreast of current medical and psycho-social developments in the fields of aging processes, of organic brain syndrome and of Alzheimers disease.

These caregivers need to know that many others are working through the same problems of relationship/role reversal, increased family stress and the sense of discouragement which comes when one is dealing with an obvious degree of brain damage and/or loss of physical or mental capacity in a family member or friend. The caregiver needs the support of and communication with others who truly understand what he or she is going through at this time.

We plan to meet the need of this caring population through initiating support groups, through presentation of special interest workshops and through providing consultation for the group or for individuals as is desired or required.

If you are directly caring for or have the responsibility of an elderly person suffering from Alzheimers disease or related organic brain syndrome (or if you know of someone) you are invited to join this program at the M.C.H.S.

Panic Vote?

Editorial, D.C.J.

"It seems to be a law inflexible and inexorable that he who will not risk cannot win." John Paul Jones

It is also a rule of debate that he who has a weak argument should muster up emotion to negate logic.

The leaders of the "Nuclear Freeze" movement are plucking the strings of emotion with an energy that indicates beyond doubt that they cannot win if the voters really consider the question with a cool and rational mind. Since this debate concerns the future of children born and unborn in a free society it is too important to leave to terror.

The hydrogen bomb is a terrible weapon. To show movies of this bomb exploding and imply that the "Nuclear Freeze" will prevent it being used is less than honest. It is plucking the strings of terror.

The hydrogen bomb in all of its horror is here to stay. The argument does not concern the reality of this dread weapon. It is how best to prevent its use.

To imply that the so-called "Nuclear Freeze" would be mutual and verifiable by satellite is pie in the sky. What does this mean? Are the Communist leaders going to move hydrogen bomb production out into the open fields so that we can photograph them from the air? Of, if by some technical miracle we can photograph through the walls and detect production, do they invite us in to look over the operation? Don't bet on it. How many years did the United States spend in negotiations with the Russian Communists to reduce all arms? What did we accomplish?

Suppose we do freeze our improvement, delivery system and development of nuclear weapons, where does that leave us? It would leave us facing the largest standing army in the world equipped with the largest array of conventional weapons. It would surely mean that the United States would have to turn back to compulsory military training and a conventional arms building program that would require years of financial sacrifice for this country. I guarantee that compulsory military training would be opposed by the same leadership that now advocates the "Nuclear Freeze". This is the very same that recently urged young men and women not to register for the draft.

All that aside, would we be any safer? Back in the arsenal would be all the nuclear weapons that exist today. The only difference would be that the Communists would be encouraged by our self-improved freeze to exploit our immobility.

This so-called "Nuclear Freeze" is a terrible gamble. It is the classic con game where the mark draws his money out of the bank to match the funds of the con man (to prove his honesty). The matching money is wrapped in a bundle and left in the lap of the mark who is left on the park bench to await the con man's return. You know the rest.

Is this the sort of security that we want for the children of this country? If so, then that little girl who says, "I'm going to grow up, get married and have children because my parents voted for the Nuclear Freeze", will learn that the tots might very well be living under Communism just as Khruschev predicted a couple of decades ago.

Letters to the Editor

Upon returning home for Easter Sunday, I scanned the Presto Press and came upon an article concerning the nuclear arms race with Russia. Mr. Jason seems to continue to support the rhetoric which was first issued as early as 1949 when the Russians astonished the "experts" by detonating their own atomic bomb a decade earlier than expected. Certainly it should be clear by now that the Russians can produce anything we can produce and that any notion of winning an arms race is pure fantasy. Similarly, the contention without question that America represents goodness and freedom and Russia represents evil and slavery is an assumption that has clouded our foreign policy for much too long. Our actions seem to be rooted in emotion rather than reason, in negative rather than positive objectives and inspired by fear rather than confidence.

I am amongst the last willing to submit to Soviet domination, but feel we need a new perspective in our foreign policy. We assume the Russians are evil and immoral. We have evidence that they violate international law, disrespect the territorial integrity of less powerful nations, and do not respect human rights. Yet, our record is certainly not clean. Certainly, the CIA has attempted to be as subversive as the KGB. Can we determine our interventions in Cuba, the Dominican Republic of Guatemala perfectly acceptable while deploring the Soviet invasions of Hungary and Czechoslovakia? Are our intentions and actions always pure and good? Is our reaction to the Polish crisis a result of compassion for the Polish people or hostility towards the Soviet Union? As long as we continue to consider the Russian government the root of all evil in the world and ourselves as the perpetrators of all that is good, we will continue to act out of fear; that is, to stockpile arms and believe that the only way to deal with Russia and world communism is through military means. What has the $2,000 billion spent on armaments since the close of World War II achieved in reducing the threat of world communist expansion? The answer must lie in some mutual abandonment of the arms race. As impossible as this sounds to Mr. Jason and as much as we cannot ever trust the Russians, it is the only solution. Quite possibly, given the present expenditures for arms, the biggest threat to our security is not the Russians, but our present wastage of national resources to support the arms race. Certainly it has taken its toll on our financial system, caused our cities to deteriorate, created problems for the primary function of our educational system and allowed our attention to drift from domestic strife. It is time to reevaluate our position which is presently vastly oversimplified, offers no viable solution, and is emotional rather than logical.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

As a Christian, I have been so uplifted by the stand that many Catholic and Protestant clergy have taken in support of a bi-lateral nuclear freeze, and against a massive build-up of nuclear weapons on the part of the superpowers. Catholic and Episcopal bishops have spoken out against the arms race. They have been joined by Methodist and Presbyterian ministers, among others, and the Union of Hebrew Congregations, in calling for freeze negotiations. This move, I believe, arises out of a faith commitment that cannot be confined to a church building, but must find expression in all aspects of our public and private lives.

Some government officials have already attempted to suppress the opinions of religious leaders on the basis of separation of church and state. People of faith must resist this ploy to silence pastors and rabbis as they try to provide moral leadership to their congregations.

The God of Israel set life and death before His people, urging them to choose life. Jesus called His followers to be peacemakers and to love their enemies, truly radical injunctions in the face of the conflict, fear and aggression with which we live today.

Those who find that their faith in God has to be more than lip service are, I believe, called to seriously test the nuclear freeze issue against the Biblical teachings of their God. Although He calls us to a radical commitment that is often at odds with the world system, God also promises to be with us always.

Would we not be better trusting in the Creator of all, rather than in nuclear idols, which are of our own creation and ultimately promise only death, both in body and in spirit.

In Christ's Peace, Jane T. Ellis

A recent graduate of Cranbrook Academy of Art of Bloomfield, Hills, Michigan with a Master of Fine Arts in Textiles, Sandra has been living in this area since last September when she came to teach in the textile program at Southeastern Massachusetts University for the fall semester.

In the upcoming fiber show, Sandra will show a collection of black and white woven bands. In this long narrow format Sandra developed narrative ideas which she interprets in the form of image and pattern.

Jane A. Hillman, a Rhode Island native, attended Rhode Island School of Design and Southeastern Massachusetts University. She has taught workshops in schools and for various community groups. She maintains a studio at 142 Arnold Street, New Bedford for ongoing work and classes.

Jane works in a variety of textile media and has exhibited in area galleries. Her current work is in contemporary basketry and papermaking.

THE DRUNKARD AT ART CENTER

Rehearsals are well underway for the May production of The Drunkard at the Marion Art Center. This classic melodrama was first performed at the Boston Museum in 1844 and has enjoyed many revivals in many parts of the world since then. The current version was updated in 1972 by Bro Herrod and Barry Manilow who added a musical score. Under the direction of Wendy Bidstrup, the cast includes Ed Barton in the title role, Sally Jones as the heroine, Peg Ready as the dying mother, Dan O'Neill, Jr. as the dastardly villain and foul tempter, Mike Curran as the heroic brother, and Sylvia Bigelow in a cameo role as Carrie A. Nation. Other members of the cast are: Sandy Jackson, Susan Everett, Georgette Morell, George Carns,

SMALL BUSINESS FOUNDATION-PROGRAM

The Small Business Foundation of America will sponsor a one week program at Babson College from August 15-21 for students completing grades ten or eleven.

The program is funded by the Small Business Foundation and provides participants with the opportunity to learn about business operations and private enterprise. The program format includes speakers, field trips, company meetings and management games. Applicants need not have an interest in a business career, but they should have a "sincere interest in becoming a part of an intense and serious week-long learning process" and demonstrate leadership qualities.

Applications are available in the Old Rochester Regional High School Guidance Office and must be received in Waltham by May 7. Acceptances will be mailed on or before June 7.

lic Chaplaincy through St. Patrick's Church in Wareham and is often seen in his ministrations throughout the hospital.

The Tobey Chaplains' Committee is composed of all the area clergy who work together to provide professional care in cooperation with Tobey's commitment to a wholistic approach to health. The special gifts and designated "loose" offerings from the local parishes augment the annual pledges of the churches whose funding makes this special program possible. The Insect Management Service is an organization promoting Biological controls that are environmentally safe. Mr. Simser has an M.S. in Entomology, and has worked for the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Both he and Ms. Moran have spent the last seven years working with Gypsy Moths at the U.S.D.A. research facility at Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod. Dave Simser is also the author of 20 scientific publications and research journals and will have an article in "Massachusetts Wildlife" entitled "Return of the Gypsy Moth".

Our schedule for GYPSY MOTH AWARENESS DAY is as follows:

11:00 a.m. - Slide Show - "Return of the Gypsy Moth", followed by question and answer period.

LUNCH

1:00 p.m. - Discussion on Pesticides and the proper way to apply them. What is the non-toxic pesticide called BT? Demonstration on Spraying and Banding Trees with Barrier Strips. Talk on Preferred Tree Species. What Individual Homeowners can do.

This is the time of year that something can be done about the gypsy moths. Please join us at the Children's Museum on May 1st for a very informative and important program. Bring a lunch. A small admission will be charged.

Brochures produced by the Insect Management Service are presently available at the Museum and at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Education in South Dartouth.

FIELD WALK

"WILD SALADS AND SOUPS" will be the field walk for Saturday morning, May 1st. Discovering edible plants in meadows, fields and woods can be very rewarding and beneficial, not only in experiencing new tastes, rich in vitamins, but also in monetary savings. Please join us in learning to identify edible greens that can be used to perk up salads and make soups exciting. The walk is free and starts at 10:00 a.m.

Elizabethan Feast

Sample delicacies of Elizabethan England. Clap to the rhythm of a 17th century jig. Join the Lakeville United Church of Christ in a 10 course Elizabeth Feast where your hosts will be members of the New England Song and Daunce Companie. A Middleborough based group, the New England Song and Daunce Companie has performed 17th century English country pastimes in Lakeville and throughout southeastern Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island. These entertainers delight in bringing their audience back in time where they become the country folk of Shakespearean England, ready to tell a tale, bellow a ballad, or turn a dance.

Taste of Honey

The Institute on Health and Long Life of Southeastern Massachusetts University has scheduled a second spring offering of its Taste of Honey Program. Entitled "Impressionist to Postimpressionist Painters", the series will feature six slide lectures which will examine the beginning of modern art through the works of Monet, Whistler, Renoir, Degas, Gauguin, and Cezanne. The program, which begins on May 4 and will run for six consecutive Tuesdays from 3 to 4 p.m., will be held in Room 221 of the Group I Building on the SMU campus in North Dartmouth.

The Institute on Health and Long Life is an independent activity within the Division of Continuing Studies at SMU. The Institute has been offering cultural enrichment courses in the areas of art, literature, and music since the spring of 1977.

Plymouth County Wildlands Trust

Plymouth County Wildlands Trust invites the public to enjoy a guide walk along Bay Hill Road in the Plymouth-Ellisville section, to view Spring plants with commentary from the writings of Henry D. Thoreau. The walk, to be held this Saturday, May 1, from 10 a.m. to noon, will highlight the visit of the great eighteenth-century naturalist to Plymouth and Cape Cod in 1857; and will focus in on his and our reactions to the world of wildflowers revealed to us in Plymouth County as spring unfolds.

To join the PCWT group, meet at the home of Albert & Laura Marsh (donors of the Wynn Memorial Reservation) off Ellisville Road, via Route 3-A in Ellisville at 10 a.m. Then, along the way Mario DiGregorio will distribute the Wynn Reservation Description and orient the group to the natural history of the oak-pine woodlands of South Plymouth.

For information on the walk please call Laura Marsha, 888-2170.

Imagine. finding yourself.
Carol Balzotti did!

"I didn't realize how different I would feel about myself. Three years ago, I decided to try the Gloria Stevens 6-week offer. Immediately, I was aware of the change in my body and attitude. From that time on, I try to exercise daily.
"Now, when I look into the mirror, I see lines instead of bulges. Clothes look so much better on me. Most important, I feel good knowing that I took the right step to keep my body in shape. I love being a Gloria Stevens member."
